

Conscious Leadership Program

Bridging Western and Eastern Wisdoms

A Transformative Journey for CEOs & Managers

UniOne

Overview

In today's fast-paced, complex world, leaders face unprecedented challenges—from technological disruption and economic uncertainty to geopolitical instability and climate change. This environment can lead to stress, burnout, and confusion.

The UniOne Conscious Leadership Program is designed for CEOs and Managers across the private, public, and not-for-profit sectors who seek to lead with clarity and purpose, mastering both personal growth and organizational change. This training focuses on conscious leadership, which involves having a clear sense of direction and purpose while navigating complexity. A conscious leader remains centered and calm, unaffected by external challenges.

This unique training blends modern Western leadership principles, as taught by Harvard's Ronald Heifetz on Adaptive Leadership, with the ancient wisdom of Vedantic philosophy from India, helping participants develop inner strength, self-awareness, and purpose.

Who is it for

This program is designed for CEOs & Managers across various sectors aiming to:

- Lead with a sense of purpose aligned with the larger mission of their organization.
- Cultivate self-mastery, understanding one's system of internal forces and shadows that influence decision-making.
- Navigate complexity with clarity, using the Self as a tool to lead change in organizations.
- Strengthen leadership skills through deep inner work.

What You Will Learn

Participants will embark on a journey of personal and professional growth, gaining:

- Insight into the Self as a system, exploring desires, aversions, and finding inner calm.
- Tools to align personal purpose with organizational goals, learning how to mobilize the Self to lead change.
- Practical applications of Adaptive Leadership, diagnosing and mobilizing systems effectively.
- Understanding of Vedantic Teachings on purposeful growth and action (dharma and karma), and self-mastery to foster resilience and focus in leadership.
- Yogic practices to develop mental clarity, focus and emotional resilience.

Methodology

The UniOne Conscious Leadership Program utilizes a holistic and experiential approach that blends Western and Eastern teachings. The methodology is built on four key pillars:

1. Adaptive Leadership Framework: Drawing from Ronald Heifetz's work, participants learn to diagnose organizational systems, identify key actors, and navigate complex dynamics. This is coupled with personal reflection on how their inner Self interacts with these external systems.
2. Vedantic Teachings: Participants explore key principles of Vedanta. This includes a deeper understanding of the law of cause and effect (Karma)-the practice of purposeful growth (dharma) , and self-mastery. These teachings are applied to leadership, guiding participants to lead with clarity, purpose, and compassion.
3. Interactive Learning: The program includes dynamic group discussions, case studies, and personal reflection exercises to integrate both leadership and Vedantic principles into real-world challenges.
4. Yogic Practices: The use of breath work, gentle movement and energy work to cultivate focus, manage stress, and gain mastery over the mind and emotions, enabling participants to lead from a place of inner calm and confidence.
